The team was in the hunt for a tournament berth until many of the key players on the team went down with injuries. The team knew they were undermanned, but they never gave up.

"These are the Days" is the 1994 yearbook theme. It truly is a theme that is relevant to our high school lives. These really are the days ... the days we laugh with our friends ... the days we are taught the skills of life ... the days we learn to love ... and graduation day, the day we eventually must move on. The Torch Yearbook is a token of our remembrance. It is a completion of our days put together by a hard working staff. The staff would like to thank Mr. Paone, our advisor, and Mrs. Russell, our computer specialist, for all their hard work and dedication. Their efforts have truly made this year's yearbook a success.

SHAWN MICHAEL CANNIZZO "Bo"

Although he can't express his feelings I know that in his own little way he realizes and appreciates everything our parents do for him. Over the last 18 years, I have never seen a person fight as hard to overcome as many obstacles as my brother has. He has inspired me and shown me that we all take the little things in life for granted. He has taught me that life is a tough path to follow and that you must never give up the fight if you wish to have a happy and successful life. I love you, Bo!

A Message for my daughter
Sheri:
When you were born on Friday the thirteenth, I knew then you were going to be very special. Through your first five years you brought much joy and happiness to our lives. Then, when your father passed away, we shared our sorrow together and it brought us closer than ever before. Your early school years showed me just how special you were going to be and as you grew into a teenager, your determination to excel started to show more and more. All the scholastic awards that you received in Middle School and High School have made me very proud. But my proudest moment was last year when you were inducted into the National Honor Society. Now that you are a young woman on the threshold of college, I want you to know how much pride and love I have for you. During college you will have many decisions to make. Some will be the right ones, some will not, so just remember that I will always be there for you. I know that no matter what you decide to do with your life, I will be just as proud of you as I am today.

Much Love Always,
Mom

Amy,
Best wishes for a great life — Enjoy yourself, have fun and work hard. You'll be great!
